5. On Saturday, 16 May, Boyd Crawford, Staff Administrator, House Foreign Affairs Committee, called the undersigned at home. He appeared to be concerned about developments involving a film which had been shown on a CBS telecast two weeks ago on a program, "Is Cuba Going Red?" He said a man named [redacted] had called him and suggested that this film might be of interest to the Foreign Affairs Committee. Crawford said that without Chairman Morgan's specific instructions but with his general approval, a call was made to CBS to obtain the film. Crawford talked with Ted Coop and others at CBS and arrangements were made for the film to be shown to the Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs.
